The screenshot shows a partner page for 'Example' on the WeForest platform. The page includes a company logo, a title 'Example' with a subtitle 'WeForest partner since 2022', and a green box stating 'Example is restoring 0.00 ha by growing an estimated 1 trees'. Below this are two tabs: 'ABOUT' and 'SUPPORTED PROJECTS'. The 'ABOUT' tab is active, showing a quiz question: 'Can you guess the names of the tree species in the image below?' with an answer: 'they are Miombo trees in Malawi (in order left to right from your picture):'. A list of 10 tree species follows. Below the list is a photo of John Smith, CEO, with a quote: 'This is a dream coming true! Growing trees with our clients and candidates is an innovative approach to engage our network in our brand's commitment to a healthy, sustainable growth for all. We believe in giving back. We want to make this world a better place and believe in benefiting the planet and people over profits.' A video player is embedded below the quote, titled 'Making Earth Cooler with Bryan Adar'. Under the video is an image of tree seedlings in a nursery. At the bottom, there is a button 'Visit the Example website' and a section for 'Contribute here' with a 'GET INVOLVED WITH WEFORREST' button and footer links for 'Terms & Conditions', 'Data privacy', and 'Contact'.
